JAY WILLIAMS

President
Hartford Foundation for Public Giving

We live in a community that could benefit from change.

The statistics on the following pages paint a stark picture about the state of higher education in Greater Hartford. Continuing education is critical to future economic security. But the cost of that education continues to exceed the resources of many of our students, particularly students of color, those with lower family incomes, and those living in specific neighborhoods.

Still, I see many reasons to hope.

More of our students are continuing their education, particularly those students from lower-opportunity neighborhoods. Assistance, through scholarships and wrap-around programs, can make a measurable difference. The Foundation is fortunate to work with individuals and organizations that generously give time and financial support to scholarship programs. Their steadfast generosity allows the Foundation to innovate, such as through the Community College Scholarship Endowment Fund which helps students often overlooked by traditional scholarships—those attending two-year schools, and those transferring to four-year schools.

Consider yourself invited to join us on this lifelong journey of learning. Dream big. Challenge yourself, your neighbors and us as we put philanthropy into action.

WHY SCHOLARSHIPS MATTER

RATE OF INCREASE

(since 1973, adjusted for inflation)

Public college tuition: +274%

Top 1% household income: +170%

Median household income: +7%

(Center on Budget and Policy Priorities 2016, College Board 2017)

Students from very low income households spend twice as high a share of their family income to attend a 4-year public institution compared to students from high income households.

(Institute for College Access and Success 2014-15)

Weekly earnings for full-time wage and salary workers 25 years old and older:

Bachelor's Degree:
$1,173

High school diploma:
$712

(U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, 2017)

Students' receipt of financial aid, such as scholarships, can increase college enrollment and positive academic outcomes.

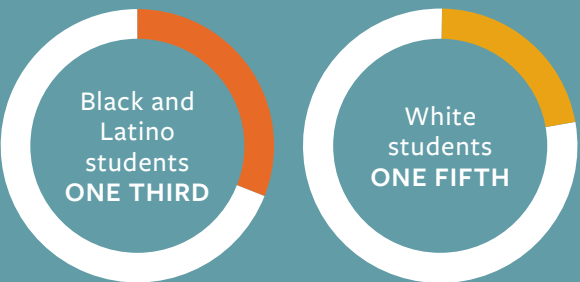

(Dynarski and Scott-Clayton 2013, and others)

One third of Hartford Public Schools seniors make it to the 2nd year of college.

(HFPG analysis of EdSight and National Student Clearinghouse 2015 data)

Students graduating from high school in the Greater Hartford Region who DO NOT ATTEND COLLEGE:

(HFPG analysis of EdSight and National Student Clearinghouse 2015 data)

Unmet financial need increases the need for students to seek employment while attending college, which can negatively impact academic performance.

(Work Less, Study More, and Succeed 2009)

DR. ROBERT J. PATTERSON:

OPPORTUNITIES MATTER

Dr. Robert J. Patterson, ► keynote speaker at the
2018 Hartford Foundation
Scholarship Reception.

In 1998, a young Hartford resident named Robert Patterson became a Hartford Foundation scholarship recipient. He used his award to help fund his studies at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

He went on to earn his Ph.D. from Emory University and to become the inaugural Chair of African American Studies at his undergraduate alma mater.

Two decades after first receiving his scholarship, Dr. Patterson addressed the Hartford Foundation's 2018 Scholarship Program recipients about the role his award played in his life's pursuits. In his experience, that scholarship represented more than help with tuition. It acknowledged the importance of community, investing in the future, and an understanding of the privilege of higher education and the access it makes available.

“While education provides one with the skills and knowledge to execute jobs and professions responsibly, it also equips us with the necessary tools to think critically, to ask questions, to accept and reject information, and to offer innovative solutions to long-standing and seemingly impenetrable problems.”

Dr. Patterson recognizes the value of these opportunities and continues the mission of philanthropy by establishing the Robert J. Patterson Scholarship Fund through the Hartford Foundation. This scholarship will be available to Hartford residents who intend to major in African American Studies, the Humanities, and/or Social Justice.

Innovative thinking transforms communities and individuals, eradicates systems of inequality and privilege, and offers new ways of imagining and experiencing the world. Dr. Patterson asserts that these principles are at the heart of a just future.

LIFE DOES NOT TURN OUT HOW WE IMAGINE,
THOUGH THAT FACT SHOULD NEVER LIMIT THE POWER OF IMAGINATION.

ABOUT THE HARTFORD FOUNDATION ▶

SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Our scholarship funds were created by people and organizations of all types and from all across Greater Hartford. Although their situations vary greatly, they all share one motivation—to help students afford a college education.

Because of our donors' generosity, last year the Hartford Foundation awarded more than $1.45 million in support of college scholarships to more than 625 traditional-aged students and adult learners at four-year and two-year colleges, as well as graduate school.

There are three ways you can make a substantial impact on area students through the Hartford Foundation:

1. With a gift of $50,000 you can create an Individual Scholarship Fund and name specific selection criteria for your scholar. The Foundation can help you decide how to participate in reviewing potential recipients. We will also handle scholarship distributions and renewal applications, and help you communicate with your scholar if you choose.
2. You can contribute any amount to the Hartford Foundation's General Scholarship Endowment Fund or create a named fund with a gift of $10,000 or more. Contributions are invested in our broadly diversified portfolio and the Fund makes four-year scholarship awards—currently of $3,000—to residents of Greater Hartford.
3. You can contribute any amount to the Community College Scholarship Endowment Fund or create a named fund with a gift of $10,000 or more. Contributions are invested in our broadly diversified portfolio and the fund makes three-year scholarship awards of increasing amounts. Currently, the awards are for graduating high school seniors or adult learners attending a community college within the Greater Hartford region.

Many of the scholarships for traditional-aged students are renewable, enabling students to receive significant support for each of their years in college as long as they maintain a good academic record. Moreover, these funds are endowed, which means that the Hartford Foundation can continue to award scholarships to area students.

Natalie Guerrero is attending
Goodwin College with an award from the Town and County Club Fund Scholarship.

FIRST-TIME RECIPIENTS FROM INDIVIDUAL SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS HELD AT THE HARTFORD FOUNDATION FOR PUBLIC GIVING

The Hartford Foundation congratulates the following students and acknowledges the generosity of the individuals, families and organizations that created the funds to make these scholarships possible.

This list includes students who have received first-time awards as of August 30, 2018 for the 2018-2019 academic year.

THE HARTFORD
FOUNDATION’S SCHOLARSHIP
HAS ALLOWED ME TO ATTEND
MY FIRST YEAR OF COLLEGE
WITHOUT TAKING OUT
STUDENT LOANS. DELAYING TAKING OUT LOANS WILL ALLOW ME TO BE IN A BETTER
FINANCIAL SITUATION
AFTER GRADUATION.
