Dear Families:

Let’s celebrate summer! This directory will help you find activities that your children and family can enjoy. Summer is a wonderful time for students to participate in a program that gives them new experiences, develops new friendships, and reinforces skills learned during the school year to support year-round learning. This helps to prevent summer learning loss, keeps kids engaged and supports youth development.

Finding an affordable summer program that meets your needs can be a challenge. The directory lists a variety of camp, tutorial and other summer programs that are available throughout Hartford and the surrounding area. This resource also provides information on city parks and pools, free lunch programs, library and family center activities, job training opportunities for adults and much more. Youth programs offer a combination of activities to promote learning and youth development, as well as opportunities for parents to participate. Options for both youth and adults with disabilities, as well as for senior citizens, are also included.

Browse the directory and decide which programs are best for your children, teens, elderly or other family members. If there is a charge for the program, it is noted, however, a number of programs are offered free, or at reduced fees based on income. Be sure to register as early as possible and to ask program staff whether financial aid is available.

Have a safe and enjoyable summer!

What’s in the Directory?

- A summary of Hartford Public Schools (HPS) Early Start Summer School Program. For more information, visit www.hartfordschools.org/summer2018
- A description of City of Hartford summer programs
- Other summer opportunities including job training for youth and adults

What should I know before I get started?

Begin by exploring with your children their interests in activities offered in the summer program listings. Also, be sure to talk with their teachers about their academic needs and whether your child may be required to attend summer school. You will need to be sure that the programs you choose won’t conflict with summer school dates and times, and to identify times during the summer your children will be able to participate in additional summer programs.

If your child is required to attend summer school, find out in which school the sessions will take place, and check the program listings (or ask school staff) for summer programs operating in or near the school that your child will be attending, so that they can participate in programs after summer school ends each day.

A number of the day programs are located in Hartford area schools. Be sure to check with staff to confirm locations and schedules.

Can my child attend both the Hartford Public Schools Early Start or other HPS programs, and a summer camp or other community program?

Yes. The Hartford Public Schools Early Start or other program sessions are held either in the morning or afternoon and a number of the summer camps and other community programs offer half-day sessions. So, if your child is attending Early Start or other HPS programs, he or she can attend a camp or other community program either for a half-day or participate in a full-day program during June or early July before summer school begins. Many of the Hartford school-based programs are designed to provide enrichment activities around the summer school sessions. A few programs also continue after summer school ends in August.

Youth not required to attend HPS Early Start summer school may enroll in a full-day summer program. For details on the Hartford Public Schools Early Start and other programs, please refer to the summary in this directory. For additional details, visit the HPS website: www.hartfordschools.org/summer2018

What’s in each summer program listing?

1. Program location
2. Activities offered
3. Area and ages served
4. Start and end date and length of each session
   Note: A summer program may be open for six weeks or more, but campers normally attend for one- or two-week or sometimes longer sessions. Some programs allow participants to attend multiple sessions. Other programs may restrict the number of sessions each participant may attend. Several of the CIT and tutorial programs require youth to participate for a longer period so they can get the full benefit of the program. Contact the program that interests you for more information.
5. Fees and financial aid: Some programs have fees. If you are unable to pay the program fee, please contact the program anyway. Many programs offer “camperships,” which are similar to scholarships. Your child may qualify for a campership or reduced fee based on family income. Be sure to contact the program that interests you as soon as possible to find out, and note the “◆” and “$” symbols used in this directory to indicate when programs are free or offer reduced fees to qualified applicants.
6. Transportation: Some programs provide transportation. This is noted in the listing.

7. Registration deadline/program contacts: The registration deadline and program staff contact information are listed, but don't wait until the deadline to call. Call as soon as possible to help ensure that your child and other family members can participate in the program of their choice. If the registration deadline has passed, call the program to see if space is available.

How to use this directory

This directory lists 47 summer programs that support building skills and youth development. It is divided into three sections: camp, counselor-in-training and tutorial programs.

- Camp Programs
  These summer programs offer a variety of fun learning activities, including sports, arts, crafts, theater, swimming, computers, science, as well as reading and other enrichment activities, and much, much more. Both residential and day programs are offered. Pick a program that best suits your child’s interests.

- Counselor-in-Training (CIT) Programs
  These programs offer older youth who are too young to work a regular job the chance to earn a little money and receive training as assistants at camps or other summer programs. Many of the programs offer a small stipend while helping teens gain important leadership and employment skills. You’ll want to sign up quickly for these programs as CIT internships go fast!

- Tutorial Programs
  These programs encourage your child’s love of learning and academic success — with an emphasis on fun. Each program is different. Review the program descriptions, talk with program staff, and select the program that will best meet your child's needs and interests.

How do I enroll my child in one of these programs?

Contact the program directly as soon as possible. Use the contact information listed in the program listings. If one program is full, call another. There are many options available for children and youth living in the Greater Hartford area.

Are there other summer programs available for children and youth in Greater Hartford?

Yes. For information about summer programs not listed in this directory, dial 2-1-1. Also be sure to review the Hartford Department of Families, Children, Youth & Recreation programs on page 14. The Agency Phone Index on page 30 can also be helpful in finding additional programs.

2-1-1 can help families find other services, including free summer food programs for kids, food cooperatives and food pantries, housing information, benefits assistance, health care options, child care programs, services for children with special needs, and more. Dial 2-1-1 anytime, day or night, to talk to a 2-1-1 specialist or search the online database at www.211ct.org. Click on 2-1-1: Search for Services in Connecticut. You may also reach 2-1-1 Child Care by dialing by 1-800-505-1000 or simply dial 2-1-1 and select the prompt for child care, Monday through Friday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., or search the online database at search.211childcare.org.
Spring 2018

Dear Families,

Once again, it's time to make summer plans! Summer is a wonderful time for families to enjoy time together and to take advantage of summer program opportunities that will keep children and youth learning while having fun and being active. During the summer, math and reading skills learned in school can fade unless students are engaged in activities that reinforce those skills.

The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving is pleased to provide funding support to summer program providers and to bring organizations together each year to explore strategies for delivering quality programs. We hope the opportunities listed in this directory will offer your children new experiences that support building reading and writing, self-confidence, and critical thinking skills—while having fun.

We are proud to continue to publish this directory in collaboration with the Hartford Public Schools to provide information about summer school and other local programs, including programs for residents with special needs. Many of the summer programs listed in this directory are free or offer reduced fees, so we encourage parents to ask about financial assistance.

We also invite parents, and other adults looking for support in developing their job skills and connecting to training or employment, to review the workforce development opportunities included in the back of this directory.

Enjoy your summer!

Sincerely,

Jay Williams
President
Spring 2018

Dear Families:

It is the time of year when we begin to make our plans for summer, when the weather warms and things slow down a bit. While our young people enjoy a break from their regular school schedules, it is still a very important time of growth and development for them. During the weeks that school in not in session, it is important for children to be involved in activities that stimulate their learning. Research shows that children experience significant losses in their learning when they are not engaged in educational activities during the summer.

This resource guide is filled with programs and opportunities to help your children explore new worlds, develop new skills and meet new friends. You will find information in this guide about our “Early Start” summer school program, programs at our Hartford Public Library branches, camps and summer programs in the community, as well as programs at our City Recreation Centers and Parks.

This guide represents the richness and diversity of our Hartford community. It is also evidence that our school system shares the responsibility of our children’s growth and development not only with parents, but with a wide range of community partners. Whether your child is interested in the arts, sports, recreation, or needs extra support in academics or social skills development, my hope is that you find an opportunity for your child to grow and explore in the pages of this guide.

No matter how old your children are, the most important thing you can do to support their academic growth is to encourage them to read every day. Some of the best summer adventures are as close as the books in your local library! I wish all of our students and families a safe and fun summer filled with growth and development.

Sincerely,

Leslie Torres-Rodriguez, Ed.D.
Superintendent

Hartford Public Schools Programs

Early Start and Afternoon Enrichment Program
Monday, July 9 – Friday, August 3, 2018

The Hartford Public Schools offers the Early Start summer school program for students in grades K-7 who are state and district mandated to participate based on the need for academic support. Contact your child’s school for more details.

Early Start students will receive instructional intervention in the school they attended during the 2017-2018 school year. Academic instruction, breakfast, lunch, nursing services and transportation (for eligible students) are provided at no cost for mandated students.

Please check with your school site for additional information and updates regarding the Early Start Summer Program.

The purpose of the Early Start summer school program is to prevent summer learning loss and to improve academic performance of reading and math skills as evidenced by district and school progress monitoring assessments. In addition, students participate in enrichment learning opportunities provided by Community-Based Organizations (CBOs).

The Hartford Department of Families, Children, Youth and Recreation offers a multitude of safe and quality programs that will focus on physical fitness, health awareness, sports, arts and crafts, cultural activities and nutrition for residents of all ages and abilities for the summer.

Our American Red Cross certified lifeguards are located at our four outdoor pools, which offer swim lessons for children and adults and recreational supervised swim for children, adults and families. Some park playgrounds will be supervised and have amenities that may include spray pools and basketball courts.

There are several City of Hartford schools and playgrounds that will be offering free summer meals to Hartford youngsters ages 18 and under. For more information, questions, site locations and scheduling for the Hartford Public Schools summer feeding program, call 860-695-8490. For all other city listings and sites, please call 860-757-9595 or just call 2-1-1.

Most programs are open and free to Hartford residents. Some programs have limited enrollment and will be filled on a first come, first served basis.

Applications and more detailed information on activities this summer for kids, families and seniors will be available in June by calling 860-757-9595 or visiting our neighborhood centers, early learning centers or libraries.
